FIRE DESTROYS BIG CATTLE BARN

Loss of $7,000 is Caused by Blaze
On A. P. Walker Farm West of the City Saturday Night

BAD WIRING BELIEVED CAUSE

Twice During Evening Electric Lights Grew Dim, Which Was Probably
Due to Short Circuit

A large cattle barn on the A. P. Walker farm, three miles west of Rushville, burned Saturday night about nine o'clock. Mr. Walker estimated his loss at $7,000 with $4,000 insurance. While the origin is unknown it is believed that the fire was caused from defective wiring. The Walker automobile is included in the loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker were entertaining company from Indianapolis at the time and the flames had gained much headway before discovered. Mr. Walker states that twice during the evening the electric lights in his house had shown a tendency to go out and it is believed that a short circuit, which eventually caused the fire, was responsible for the variation in the current.

Because of the damp condition of the buildings and ground a short circuit is believed to have caused the fire. The fire seemed to have started in one corner of the barn and the flames spread very rapidly. When first discovered the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building. The barn contained much hay and straw and this burned with a flash. Mr. Walker's automobile was totally destroyed in the flames. The barn was a large one and was built especially for cattle. There was much valuable concrete work in the barn.

It was only by the hardest kind of work that the flames were kept from spreading to the other buildings. A bucket brigade saved the other large barn. The fire attracted a large crowd from the city. Mr. Walker has no fire protection at the farm and there was nothing to do but let the barn burn without making any efforts to put out the fire. There was no stock in the barn at the time.

While the barn was partially covered with insurance the loss will be a heavy one to Mr. Walker. It has been only recently that Mr. Walker has been keeping his automobile in the barn. Mr. Walker has been very unfortunate in sustaining fire losses. About three years ago his beautiful country residence was destroyed by fire. The house was valued at $25,000 but was well covered by insurance.

SUN HELPS ADD TO ENTHUSIASM

Prospect of Ideal Weather For Horse Show and Fall Festival is Seen Today.

DECORATIONS BEING PUT UP

Events Opens Tomorrow Morning
With Parade of Horses, Mules
and Ponies Entered in Show.

The bright sunshine and the prospect this morning of a week of fine weather put new enthusiasm in the committees working for the success of the fall festival and horse show which opens here tomorrow morning. All predictions are that the largest crowd ever attending a horse show will be here during the week.

The decorative booths were all placed in position today and merchants and others began to "dress" them up for the week. Some merchants were arranging to make elaborate displays in their booths whereas others planned to place chairs in them for the convenience of their customers. Red, white and blue were the colors used.

The festival and show will be formally opened tomorrow morning with a parade of stock entered for the show. The program will be opened immediately after dinner. Tuesday afternoon heavy draft horses and mules will be shown. Premiums will be awarded in the pony and general purpose horses classes Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to the light harness shows. will be one race at the close of the Wednesday afternoon program and another at the end of the light harness show Thursday afternoon.

Free attractions will be given by the Nathano Brothers, comedy trick and acrobatic skaters. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon and evening. The Nathano Brothers offer something new in acrobatic skating, introducing more tricks and sensational stunts than anything of its kind ever presented.

From indications today, it appears that the industrial parade scheduled for Thursday afternoon at three o'clock will be the big outstanding event of the week. Word from Indianapolis is that there will be a big delegation of Indianapolis men here to witness the parade.

Numbered among the committee-men who have been appointed to arrange for the Rushville trip are the most prominent business men of Indianapolis. The chairman of the committee is Edson F. Folsom formerly of Rushville, and he may be depended upon to make the best showing possible in Rushville because of the remembrance of the days he spent here.

The Indianapolis delegation will, in all probability, leave Indianapolis in special cars on the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction line at one o'clock Thursday afternoon and will arrive here, probably about twenty o'clock. The marshal of the day and his assistants will lead his parade and following will be the Indianapolis visitors, headed by the Indianapolis News Newsboys' band. Then will come the Rushville band and the industrial parade. Near the end of the line of march the visitors will fall out to one side and inspect the parade.

The Indianapolis newspapers print the names of the following men appointed to arrange for the excursion:

Edson F. Folsom, chairman; Frederick R. Angell, H. C. Atkins, Frederick M. Ayres, W. E. Balch, Frank W. Ball, Ralph Bamberger, J. W. Banbury, H. J. Barnard, Herbert L.

NOTHING NEW IS DEVELOPED

Robbery of Wagner Grocery Store is Not Connected Yet With Mystery
of Wagner Murder

STOCK IS FINALLY SOLD

Stated That Attempt Was Made to Enter Home of Widow—At Loss to Account for This

So far nothing new has developed on the mysterious robbery of the Wagner grocery store in West Eighth street, the property of the late Milton Wagner who was murdered by supposed burglars on the morning of September 20. It was thought that the robbery of the store last week might throw some light on the murder mystery as it was believed at the time that the robbery could be connected with the murder.

The robbery of the store coming at a time when the murder of Mr. Wagner remains unsolved was considered a strange occurrence, but so far the two events have failed to be connected by the police, although they have several theories and believe something will develop in due time. While the stock carried in the store was not large, it was lessened to a great extent last Friday night when the place was entered and a large part of the stock loaded on a wagon and hauled away.

The remainder of the stock was sold at public auction Saturday afternoon. It was first thought that the grocery would be sold in one lump but a buyer could not be found, following the robbery of the store. George W. Young, attorney for Mrs. Wagner, widow of the murdered man, and J. Vincent Young, administrator of the estate, conducted the sale Saturday afternoon and sold practically everything of value at auction. The total amount of the sale has not been divulged but Mrs. Wagner will not receive the full value of the stock because of the robbery and the fact that it was sold at public auction.

It was stated today that an attempt was also made to enter the home of Mrs. Wagner, but this was not successful. Following the events Mrs. Wagner has been kept in a state of great excitement and is now almost a nervous wreck! She cannot understand why anyone would have anything against her. She has been unable to give the police any clew concerning her tormentors and it seems as though the murder and the robbery of the store is as big a mystery as ever.

SUPERIOR SPEED WINS

Crew of Trawler Tells of Sinking of Four German Ships.

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 19.—Superior speed won for England in Saturday's naval clash off the Dutch coast when four German destroyers were sent to the bottom by the cruiser Undaunted and her accompanying destroyers. The first story of the battle was brought here today by the crew of a trawler which saw the fight. The German destroyers were on patrol. They put on full speed and frantically tried to escape but they had from three to five knots more in speed.

JAP CRUISER HITS A FLOATING MINE

Takachiho Sinks While Patrolling the
the Coast of Harbor Entrance of Kiaochau.

13 SURVIVORS ARE RESCUED

(By United Press.)

Tokio, Oct. 19.—The light Japanese cruiser Takachiho has been sunk by striking a German floating mine while patrolling the coast off the harbor entrance of Riachau the German concession on the Shan Tung peninsula. Three hundred and forty-four of her crew were lost with her. Only thirteen survivors were rescued by warships which went to the rescue. No details of the disaster, the first of any real consequence to the Japanese navy in the present war, have been received.

The Takachiho was one of the oldest of the Japanese cruisers. She was built in 1885, was of 3,700 tons displacement; speed 18.5 knots and was armed with six inch guns; two six-pounders and 14 machine guns. When she was remodelled in 1900, four torpedo tubes were inserted.

CALLS GRAND JURY BEFORE HIM TODAY

Judge Markey Orders Investigators
to Report on Bill Juggling by Last of This Week.

FORMER MAYOR NOT CAUGHT

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind. Oct. 19.—Judge Markey of criminal court called the grand jury that is investigating the juggling of bills through the legislature before him today for special instructions. He said it had been impossible to arrest Former Mayor Knotts of Gary because Knotts was out of the state.

"But we will get him sooner or later," he said, "when he will serve a jail sentence as well as being fined."

Markey said the chief of police at Gary was very anxious to get Knotts. Peter Crumpecker of Monticello is expected soon at West Baden and the sheriff of Orange county has been notified to arrest him.

The court instructed the jury to return a complete report on the two bills not later than Thursday or Friday of this week. He said he would then give further instructions on criminal libel.

DRIVE GERMANS BACK IN NORTH

New Belgian Line of Battle Forces
Enemy Before it to Routers, 13
Miles Northwest.

LEFT ADVANCES AT LILLE

Opposition Encountered so Formidable Advance is Literally From House to House.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Oct. 19.—The German invasion of France by way of southern Belgium has been checked. The official statement this afternoon so declares.

Military headquarters here continues increasingly optimistic. It is believed the entire German strength has been tried and has been found wanting. The proposed second attempt on Paris by way of the sea-coast and the rich valley of the Seine is now expected to be abandoned and already in many quarters can be heard the declarations that the retirement of the Germans entirely from northern France is in sight.

While this may be premature, there is no doubt that in the last seventy-two hours the allies have turned the tide of battle very much in their favor. Following the fall of Antwerp there were grave fears that the allies might be forced to give considerable ground. The general situation in the north is not entirely dominated by the allies and they are reported to be pressing the Germans hard at every point.

The allies drive the Germans back in the north. This was emphasized in the official communique telegraphed from Bordeaux at three o'clock this afternoon and made public at military headquarters.

In Belgium, it is officially stated, the Belgian forces who have been concentrated along the new line inside of the frontier have driven the German forces before them to Roulers, thirteen miles northwest of Courtrai.

The allied left wing is advancing toward Lille and is encountering severe fighting in the neighborhood of La Basse, 16 miles northwest of Aras and in the small villages of Abelain and St. Nazaire in the vicinity.

It is stated that the German opposition that is being encountered in this section is so formidable that the allies are compelled to advance "literally from house to house."

There has been incessant fighting for ten days all around Aras and a desperate German counter has been repelled at Chaulnes.

Sam Trout of Shelbyville was in this city today on business.

WILL DISCUSS RURAL CREDITS

Conference of Governors at Madison, Wis., Expected to Oppose Waiting on Federal Aid

CONGRESS DELAYS ACTION

No Criticism of National Administration but Sentiment Will Favor States Acting

(By United Press.)

Madison Wisconsin, Oct. 19.—That the states are not willing to wait for the federal government to establish a rural credit system is one of the things which promises to develop at the Governors' Conference which is to meet here November 10 to 14.

Thirty governors and ten former governors, who have expressed their intention to attend the Conference, and probably the President of the United States will participate in the discussion of the report on rural credits prepared by Governor Emmet O'Neal of Alabama.

Unusual interest attaches to this subject because of the fact that some disappointment is expressed by farmers' organizations at the announcement of President Wilson that Congress will not be pressed to provide, at this session, a plan for farm loans on easy terms. Some of the governors are of the opinion that the proper method of handling rural credits is through state rather than federal action. They point out that on the theory that "God helps those who help themselves" it is important that communities become self-reliant and that farmers who wish to borrow shall be provided with the instruments of credit and the financial machinery by which they can deal with the investors of their own states. Wisconsin, Indiana and several other states have taken the lead in this matter.

It is not expected that there will be raised at the Governors' Conference any criticism of the national administration, but that instead, there will develop considerable sentiment in favor of the states providing their own machinery to take care of rural credits, with such uniformity as may be worked out through the recommendations of the Governors' Conference. It is believed that farmers, who had expected that amelioration of their financial difficulties would be achieved during this session of Congress, will be better satisfied with an intelligent state system of rural credits than by any federal plan. The President's explanation that rural credits would not be pressed at this session was elicited by inquiry on the part of members of Congress who had received numerous protests from agricultural organizations against the administration's abandonment of the rural credit program. The President however, holds that farmers will find it much easier to obtain loans on favorable terms, after the new currency act is in full operation, as this law provides that national banks outside of central reserve cities may loan 25 percent of their resources on improved or un-improved farm lands, provided each loan does not exceed Rub Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve well over the throat and chest for a few minutes and then cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck so that the vapors inhaled may loosen the choking phlegm and open the air passages. Usually one treatment relieves in fifteen minutes. One application at bedtime will prevent a night attack. Vick's will be found better than internal medicines for all inflammation of the air passages from head colds and catarrh down to bronchitis and incipient pneumonia. Three sizes—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

Obituary.

Mrs. Sarah Fielding Pugh died at her home in North Main street, Tuesday evening, Oct. 13, 1914, at 6 o'clock.

She was a daughter of William Fielding and Elizabeth Vail Fielding, and was born at Wilmington, Ohio, March 21, 1838. At the time of her death she was 76 years, 6 months and 22 days old.

The family afterwards returned to Sidney Ohio, their former home, where, on the 12th of May, 1859, she was married to David W. Pugh, a member of the firm of Posey, Flinn & Pugh, of Cincinnati. He was a brother of the late Dr. W. A. Pugh, and a native of Rushville.

Her husband died June 13, 1868, leaving her with three young children. Edward Dean, Amy and Lewis Dudley. The family came to Rushville to live 46 years ago.

Mrs. Pugh is survived by two children, Mrs. Lee Danzer of Camden, O., and Lewis Dudley Pugh, of Minneapolis, Minn. The house in which she died was her home for 33 years.

Some time after her marriage Mrs. Pugh joined the Presbyterian church. For many years she took an active and useful part in the church work in the Rushville congregation, of which she remained a member until her death.

Her sickness was long and painful and it was borne with great patience. Through it all she had the devoted care of a loving daughter.

Mrs. Pugh possessed a kind and generous heart. She was a good neighbor and a loyal friend, who will be long remembered and sincerely mourned. 188t1

If a Merchant Offers a Cut Price

on any article of merchandise he has to sell. One of two things has happened—He has either lost confidence in his own judgment and is afraid his ware will not sell at the price he placed on it, or he is playing you, Mr. Buyer, for an easy mark and is simply using cut price advertising for bait and if you are a fish and like the bait, he is going to land you. If a merchant puts an honest profit on what he has to sell when he first offers it for sale, it will remove all temptations to cut prices. Wouldn't you rather buy what you need from the man that has one price and especially when that price is lower than the cut prices of his competitors, and you don't have to wait until a sale day to get what you want. If you want to trade where you pay the same price every day in the year and where you don't pay any more any time than the other fellow, we want to sell you your buggies. And as to the styles, we have all the new ones in storm buggies there are on any market, but you know where the styles all originate. Remember, we sold Colonial styles two years ago. We have found better things now. Take a look—then you will know.

Amusements

The Princess offers a two reel feature "A Gentleman of Leisure" for the first picture of tonight's program. Richard Travers and Beverly Bayne are featured. It is said to be a new kind of a mystery photoplay and is full of action. The other is a comedy-drama "Stopping the Limited." Bryant Washburn and Ruth Stonehouse are featured.

Tonight, The Gem will show Herbert Rawlinson in "Through the Flames." In this picture we have one of the most realistic, impressive and thoroughly thrilling fire scenes ever produced in pictures. And this because the fire is a genuine fire in a big tenement house, and the rescue by the hero, of his friend and fellow fireman, is fought with apparent danger and realism. As the scenes develop showing sensational incidents, the spectator is held in the iron grip of suspense and interest. One is shown what these "fire eaters" have to do in the big cities. It is all a lesson in heroism, unselfishness and regard for duty. Ford Sterling will be seen in a very funny comedy entitled "At Three O'clock." In this comedy Ford hires a gangster to kill him, but later changes his mind.

The Mystic will show a two reel Vitagraph feature "The Song of the Ghetto" for the first picture tonight. It is said to tell a beautiful story, the scenes being divided between this country and Italy. The other is an Edison drama entitled "While the Tide was Rising."

Mrs. Lydia J. Cole suffered a slight stroke of paralysis at the close of the Main Street Christian Sunday school yesterday morning. She was somewhat improved today. It is the first stroke she ever had.

The cast is an agreeable one throughout and will be liked by all.

KERN'S TRIBUTE TO SHIVELY.

The following extract from Jas. B. Morrow's interview with John W. Kern, Indianapolis Sunday Star, Dec. 26th, 1909, is of great present interest. Mr. Morrow wrote as follows:

"I have been informed," I said, "that the brewers prevented your election to the United States senate?"

"That is true. The Democratic newspapers and voters of Indiana favored my candidacy—the files of the newspapers are open to anyone, and the voters can be seen and questioned. Forty-four Democratic members of the legislature openly gave me pledges of their support—their constituents required it. Forty-two votes were all I needed. When I seemed sure of the nomination the brewers suddenly manifested a lively interest in the situation. It was supposed that the Democrats, meeting in caucus, cast a secret ballot. I understood what that meant—pledged members of the legislature could vote for the brewers' candidate, whoever he happened to be and no one would know it. Eight men were purchased and the secret ballot went through. I received thirty-six votes and Benjamin F. Shively, attorney for the brewers, was nominated. And yet there are forty-four men who will make affidavit today that they gave me their support. I cannot prove bribery on anyone, but I think I know the names of the eight men who were bought up."

Are you going to vote for this kind of a man for senator? No hint of scandal is attached to the candidacy of Hugh Miller, nominee for the United States senate by the Republican party—"The Party of Prosperity."

Nothing But Ruin From Paris
East and North to the Frontier

BY WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Chateau-Thierry, France, Oct. 1
(By mail to New York)—From Paris eastward to the frontier and northward there is nothing but ruin. Two months ago this country was a land of plenty, another Garden of Eden smiling under the sun. Today it is a waste.

In the hotel where I write this there is no gas and no electricity. I am writing by the flicker of a candle, one lone candle, for even candles are scarce. When I started out from Paris, an attache of the American embassy said as a word of warning: "Take plenty of food with you; you probably won't be able to buy any for love or money where you are going. And take as much water as you will need. If you don't you'll come back here with enough typhoid germs in your system to fill a dozen hospitals."

He wasn't exaggerating. Later my food running short, I was forced to travel 35 miles southward nearer the edge of the world's biggest battlefield to get something to eat. That is why I am here at Chateau-Thierry.

On the tottering walls of Soissons were such notices as this:

"Food is lacking in Soissons and other necessities are equally hard to procure. Strangers and all persons not inhabitants of the city are ordered to leave by noon today."

I had lunch in Soissons at what, in peace time, would have been a cosy little hotel. Now it was almost in ruins, German shells having battered down the bigger part of it. I turned the tap of the wash room to wash my face and hands. No water came. I went into the yard and tried the faucet of the hydrant there. The result was the same.

"There is no water in Soissons," the wife of the hotel keeper said. "The bridge is blown up and the city water pipes crossed the bridge."

"Where do you get your water then?" I asked, "From the Aisne?" "For washing purposes, yes" she replied. "Our drinking water we must bring from a spring about a mile away. We would not dare drink the Aisne water; there are too many dead men and horses about."

"I washed up from water from the Aisne—just a little was given me for the Germans were on the hill-tops overlooking the river and sent shells down whenever they saw people approaching the streams."

Everywhere there are dynamited or shelled bridges; burned or shelled houses; trampled farms, deserted villages. From Soissons to Chateau-Thierry I tried to get something to eat. There was nothing to spare. What food there was, was reserved for the inhabitants; for strangers there was nothing.

At one village only a wine shop was open. The keeper was a woman. There was nothing to eat in the shop though the shop-keeper said I might have some coffee if I could drink it without sugar. Then I asked if there was any brandy, the bar-woman laughed.

"The greatest armies in the world" she said "have four times passed this village. The French retreating; the Germans advancing; the Germans retreating and the French chasing them. I've one bottle of Jamaica rum left which I hid. I take that with my coffee."

If the stories told me in the neighborhood of Rheims, Spemay, Ay and elsewhere are half true, Americans are going to find champagne hard to get pretty soon. They say the Germans took a special liking to Champagne. Many cellars were emptied. Private stocks suffered with the rest if the word of the people I talked to along the routes may be believed. Certainly I saw green bottles everywhere. I saw them in the ditches by the roadsides in the fields, floating in the Marne, the Grand Morin and the Aisne.

Fresh bread is impossible to get save in the larger towns. Each mile a stranger finds it harder and harder to get what he needs in the way of food.

For two days just out Rheims, I ate with the soldiers and slept with them. Their food is plentiful and wholesome. The French soldiers bread is delivered to him in a hard, round loaf weighing about two pounds. This he calls his "Boule de son"—(bran ball). Twice a day he gets a hot meal, about 11:30 in the morning and about six o'clock at night. This meal is usually a stew composed of meat and beans, or a ragout done in huge boilers set on stones in the open. He sometimes is given hard tack, but not often, this being used only in emergency. Nor is he used to preserved meat (singe) or (monkey meat he calls it) as huge abbatoirs are almost always located just back of the fighting where fresh beef is made ready for the army.

People living in this shattered fairland are having a hard time. They are reduced to primitive modes of living; what food they have is of the simplest; oil and often candles cannot be had; milk is lacking for the children. It seems impossible that all over Northern France, where everything is so pretty and fertile and green, that children go hungry and no doubt die because men choose to fight and kill each other.

Shakespeare All But
Brought Into the War

(By United Press.)

Rome, September 30. (By Mail to New York)—William Shakespeare has all but been summoned from the peace of the tomb to participate in the bitter hostilities between Germany and England. Because of his English birth the Bard of Avon, is being regarded as an undesirable citizen in Germany where comment has reached a fever heat of literary discussion.

Max Reinhardt the great Shakespearean producer who gained his most notable success during the past season through his presentations of Shakespeare's plays has taken up literary arms in favor of the English dramatist. Furthermore, he has appealed to leading authorities in Germany as to just what Shakespeare's

for

SHERIFF

Mr. J. K. Jameson the Republican candidate for Sheriff of Rush county is one of our most substantial citizens. He has lived in Rushville for the past 34 years and all this time has followed his trade, that of a blacksmith, in a quiet and orderly manner. He is a man in whom the people have confidence, and will, no doubt, poll a large vote among his immediate neighbors. Mr. Jameson is a prominent lodge man and quite active in fraternal work connected with lodges to which he belongs. He was a candidate two years ago for the same office that he now seeks and polled a very large vote. Had it not been for a split in the Republican party, on national issues at that time, Mr. Jameson would have been an easy winner. Mr. Jameson is a man of the people. He belongs to that class of which Lincoln said, "God must have liked, He made so many of them, namely, the common people."

position should be. Reinhardt wishes to know whether Shakespeare should be considered as an intellectual conquest and retained, or as a mere Englishman and expelled.

Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg expressed the opinion that Shakespeare belongs to all the world.

The Greek authority Wilamovitz Mottendorf, expressing his views in the controversy said: "We should present Shakespeare because he is partly our own, because he is the poet of ancient England, which would be ashamed of the hypocritical England of today—and above all, because we are superior to all Chauvinism."

Adolf Harnack, general director of the Royal Library declared: "Shakespeare is the ancestor of our German civilization."

Reinhardt declares he is quite content with the replies he has received and Shakespeare literature will triumph over national differences.

MAY LAND IN VAUDEVILLE

Wabash Students Have Several Offers to go on Stage

(By United Press.)

Crawfordsville, Ind., Oct. 19.—"Young and Alexander—prattling dialogueists." That sign may grace the vaudeville houses ere long if the money bee buzzes long and loud enough about the principles. Owen Young and Earl Alexander are students here. They have made such a decided hit as "Chalk Talkers" with the Wabash Glee Club that scouts for a vaudeville "supply house" have spotted them and wishes to take them from the bushes to a big circuit. But Young and Alexander have so far turned down the appealing offer. They want to finish their education.

Local Independent Team Outclasses Gwynneville and Wins Game by 28 to 6 Count.
VISITORS SCORE LATE IN GAME
End Runs and Forward Passes Give Rushville Early Lead—Forge Ahead in Last Quarter.

Gwynneville was completely outclassed by the Kappa Alpha Phi football team in the opening game of the local season Sunday afternoon. The local independent team showed real class and had little difficulty in winning, although the scores were made in the first and fourth quarters of the game. The final count was 28 to 6.

Gwynneville was lucky even to have scored on the local team and their lone touchdown was of the scratch variety. A forward pass of Lewlellan, full back of the Rushville team, bounded from his arms into the hands of F. Wilcox and he ran sixty yards through a broken field for Gwynneville's first and only marker. The touchdown came with only one minute of play in the final quarter. Wilcox had good interference which was largely responsible for his showing.

The Rushville team showed a little of everything in the football line. Forward passes, end runs and line plunges were successful but the open style play netted the most ground and the team showed to advantage considering that it was the first game and that the team has had very little practice. The Gwynneville team showed to an advantage in the second and third periods and in these two played the local team to a stand still.

Rushville scored a touchdown in the first quarter mainly through long end runs. The forward pass was not very successful in this period. Rushville kicked off to Gwynneville and after carrying the ball to the center of the field, Rushville held for downs and secured the ball. An end run by Lewlellan and another by Gunning put the ball on Gwynneville's ten yard line and on the next play Dreschell went over for the first marker. Gunning kicked goal.

Neither team counted in the second or third periods and most of the play was in Rushville territory.

Gwynneville made first down many times in these two periods by the use of a short forward pass and a dinky double pass. The Rushville line held time and time again and the only way they could gain was by use of the open style play. In the last quarter, Rushville opened up on Gwynneville and completely outclassed and outplayed the visitors.

A feature of this period was the scoring of a touchdown by Dreschell from the kick off. He ran the entire length of the field for a touchdown following the receiving of the punt. With only one minute to play Gwynneville scored on the Kappas.

A large crowd attended the game and a successful season is looked for. Lewlellan, Scott and Dreschell the new men on the Rushville team showed to a big advantage, and the work of the Rushville line was especially strong.

FORCED TO SIGN NOTE HE DECLARES

J. R. Brickert, in $50,000 Damage Suit, Alleges Threats Were Used By A. P. Walker

THE METHOD IS EXPLAINED

A third paragraph was added to the complaint filed by J. R. Brickert in the United States district court in Indianapolis against A. P. Walker, the Farmers Trust company and others for $50,000 damages in which Brickert alleges threats were used by A. P. Walker to compel him to sign the only note held by the Farmers Trust company. The substance of the count is as follows:

"The plaintiff did not owe said amounts; that he had set-offs and counter claims against each of said amounts; that the only note held by the Farmers Trust company of Rushville, Indiana, calling for $2,000.00 principal and $107.00 of interest was procured by fraud, threats and duress in the following particulars, to wit: that said defendant, Alpheus P. Walker, caused and persuaded this plaintiff to come to his office, and while in his said office, threatened to burst plaintiff's head with the ink stand if he did not sign said note, and the plaintiff, being in fear of his life did execute said note; that by reason of said conspiracy, the said defendants did cause and procure this plaintiff to convey all of said 222 1/2 acres of land to the Farmers Trust company of Franklin, Indiana, in trust, for all of said defendants in proportion to the above mentioned claims, all of which was done by reason of said conspiracy and said arrests and imprisonments."

WAR UNCOVERED STRANGE NAMES

Pronouncing Some of Jaw-Breakers
is Popular Form of Amusement

In New York Now

CORRECT LIST PREPARED

French and Belgium Names as Rule

Are Accented on all Syllables

Many Nasal Sounding Words

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK

(Written for United Press.)

New York, Oct. 19.—Pronouncing war names is the newest and most popular form of amusement in Manhattan these days. Some of the jaw-breakers and tongue-twisters uncovered for the first time by the European war have been given as many different pronunciations by the general public as a certain manufacturer has brands of pickles.

Therefore, an attempt has been made, in the list which follows below, to give the correct, or at least as nearly correct as possible, pronunciation of the names that one sees every day or two in stories of the conflict raging in Europe.

It should be borne in mind, however, that it is utterly impossible to indicate the exactly the sounds employed in pronouncing some of the names. Some of them you can't describe in the English language.

Here's one for which a professor stands responsible: The French U-sound (equivalent to the German U with the umlaut mark) has no equivalent in English. To make the sound purse the lips as though to say O but say E instead. The combination produces the French sounding of U.

The French and Belgian names are as a rule accented on all syllables. To an American they would sound as though they were accented on the last syllable. The Austrian words are generally accented on the first syllable.

In the list below will be found some words marked nasal. To get the correct sound for instance, in the French though spelled mawn, the letter n, word mon (my) it is pronounced as however not being sounded the word dying away with a nasal twang. It is as though the end of the word tried to creep out through your nose but got stuck there. Following is the list of words with the pronunciation, given as clearly as possible:

DESCRIBES CONVENTION

C. M. Yocum Devotes Morning Hour
at Christian Church to Narrative
About Atlanta Meeting.

OTHER CHURCH SERVICES

A. D. Batchelor Talks on "Cleansed Consciousness"—S. G. Huntington on "Required Service."

The Rev. C. M. Yocum devoted the morning hour of worship at the Main Street Christian church Sunday to a graphic description of the annual convention of the Christian church held at Atlanta, Georgia, October 7 to 14. The Rev. A. D. Batchelor at the St. Paul M. E. church last night delivered a sermon on the subject,
"The Cleansed Consciousness." At the First Baptist church the Rev. S.
G. Huntington chose for his sermon topic at night "Required Services." Parts of the three sermons follow:

Main Street Christian

At the morning service at the Main Street Christian church yesterday
the Rev. C. M. Yocum made a report of the 65th annual convention of the Christian church held at Atlanta, Ga.
Oct. 7-14. Eleven members of the local congregation attended the convention.

Though somewhat out of the center
of the strength of the Disciples
more than 3000 delegates from outside of Atlanta gathered in the convention of the Christian churches.
With perfect autumn weather a royal welcome from the great busy city of Atlanta, all arrangements of the local committee complete the great convention from start to finish was one of supreme order yet boundless enthusiasm.

The various missionary and benevolent boards reported large gains in missionary offerings as well as a most satisfactory year on the field.
In all $1,253,789.00 were raised for missions and benevolence. The men and millions committee also reported $1,800,000.00 pledged the past year
for equipment and new missionaries on the mission fields both home and foreign.

The addresses were of a high order
Among the fraternal delegates presented other communions on the program were Robt. E. Spear, Fred
S. Smith, George Innis, Shaller Matthews and others. Rushville was fully represented on the program, the pastor of the church, both missionaries supported by the congregation
and Walter Frazee appearing at various sessions.

Among the most encouraging signs is the added interest taken in the business men of the land. B. A.
Doan of Nelsonville, Ohio, is living on the accumulations of other years and is giving all the profits of his business to the church. A missionary gave an inherited estate of $25-000. to the C. W. B. M. last year. The consciousness of the responsibilities of stewardship is keen throughout the brotherhood and the signs of the times point to increased activity and larger accomplishment in the name of the King.

Last night at the St. Paul's Methodist church, the Rev. A. D. Batchelor had for his subject, "The Cleansed Consciousness." The text was Heb. 10:2: "The worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have no more consciousness of sins."

He said in part:

"The emphasis is not upon the
sins, but the consciousness of sins.
The sins are not only taken away,
but the condemning consciousness as well. It is then not the memory of sins which is removed, but the misery of them. The true christian has a cleansed consciousness.

The consciousness is cleansed through our convictions. Only as we come into an overwhelming conviction of our moral condition and see sin in the light in which God views it,

are we in the way of being cleansed from sin. We cannot consent to sin and possess a clarified consciousness. We cleanse the consciousness through our confessions. Nothing confuses the consciousness more than unconfessed sin. The scriptures are replete with entertaining instances of men who went to God and confessed their sins and who found great peace of mind through the cleansed consciousness which God gave. When we know we have committed sin we can have no clear consciousness until we have confessed our sin. Consciousness is again cleansed through our conversions.
The word means to turn. It is only when our convictions are focused in a decision to sever our connection with sin that the consciousness becomes cleansed. One of the famous feats of Hercules was to cleanse the stables of Augeas when 3000 oxen
had been confined for many years.
He accomplished the task by turning the river Alpheus through the stables. Likewise when by a strong resolve we turn to God we put our will in the way of letting the Divine life flow through it. This in turn cleanses the consciousness of every foul and filthy thing and makes it clean as the spiritual current which courses through it. We cleanse the consciousness by our consecrations.
This means the presentation of all our powers to God that they may be put at his service. To hold back any thing from him is to cloud the consciousness. A covetous man can never have a cleansed consciousness.
He who is contrary to God in anything can never have a cleansed consciousness.

What a truly wonderful thing the gospel of Christ accomplishes when it cleanses the consciousness! It takes away the shame of former acts
the degradation of disgraceful deeds,
the felt dishonor of past transgressions. We are not completely restored until the mind is renewed in a new sense of honor. And this is what the gospel of Christ does for us by lifting us to a loftier level, by showing us that we are created in the very image of God, that we were fashioned to have communion with him, that we belong to a higher range of being. This conscious relationship lifts us above the low level
and frees us from the former condemnations. "There is now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus." They are settled in a new sentiment, in a christian conscie-ness, in fact, which brings the soul
into continual concourse with God.
Hence the scripture is proved by the soul's own self-supporting evidence,
"It we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus
his Son cleanseth us from all unrighteousness." May God give to all of us a cleansed consciousness to comfort us in our discouragements, to give us courage and confidence in our conflicts!

First Baptist

The Rev. S. G. Huntington spoke on "Required Service" Sunday night from the text, Micah 6:6-8. He said in part:

The prophet Micah prophesied in the days of Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, about 725
years before Christ and 200 years

before the Jews went into captivity in Babylon. He warned against her sins, of which idolatry was the most pronounced. Like Isaiah, though discerning the wickedness of Israel, foreseeing the judgments of God that were sure to fall heavily upon them, yet he looked hopefully to the advent of the Messiah for final triumph and victory. His words to Israel, though not altogether heeded by them, apparently had a moulding influence over them for good. Israel trusted largely on outward show and what they could do themselves for salvation. This was the natural fruitage of idolatry. Christ illustrated their condition in these words: "All their works they do to be seen by men," "Ye pay tithe of mint, and anise, and cummin, and have omitted
the weightier matters of law, judgment, mercy and faith." Micah logically insisted upon a deeper and more trustful religion. Admonishing them, he requires: 'O man, what is good and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with God.'
Note please these three graces God insists on should characterize the true worshipper, justice, mercy and humility. Possessed of these, the motive that then prompts a man in doing works of righteousness is clear and plain. Justice, in the last analysis, comprehends repentance and repentance in turn comprehends conviction and confession.

Mercy is more than justice just as a 'good' man is more than merely a 'righteous' man, Rom. 5:7. To cultivate the love of mercy brings us
nearer and nearer to God.

To walk humbly, one must be reconciled to God, Amos. 3:3. When Luther asked what was the first step in religion he replied 'humility.' And when asked what was the second and third he answered in the same way. Men may live blamelessly outward, toward the law, and yet fail in their spiritual life. It was so in the case of Paul before his conversion. Phil. 3:6. Speaking the experience the apostle Paul says: 'I live,
yet not I, but Christ liveth in me,' Gali. 2:20. And again he says 'For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do his good pleasure,' Phil. 2:13.
